TO OUR INVESTORS AND PARTNERS:

2021 was an incredibly busy year for the Grand Traverse regional economy. The companies and organizations you lead created significant value for your stakeholders and growth for our region, all the more impressive given the stiff headwinds you faced with supply chain, staffing, and continued pandemic-related uncertainty. Your perseverance, determination, and resiliency have been remarkable, and it is Traverse Connect’s distinct honor to support your hard work.

Supporting your businesses means continuing to execute on the key goals of our strategic plan: enhancing the competitiveness of the Northern Michigan economy, driving the growth of second-stage businesses, and attracting and developing a talented workforce.

With workforce issues such as attainable housing and affordable childcare for employees foremost among your concerns, Traverse Connect and the Northern Michigan Chamber Alliance set an aggressive advocacy agenda for the year. Progress included initiation of the new state-wide Tri-Share Childcare Program with a pilot in the Grand Traverse area, the introduction of bipartisan childcare legislation that reduces regulations for providers, and efforts with Housing North and the Michigan Housing Coalition on a set of housing-related bills that would increase the options available for workforce housing.

Small businesses are the engine of northern Michigan, and 2021 saw the initiation of our strategic partnership with the Traverse City DDA in which we outlined key steps the district should take to help local small businesses recover from the pandemic, as well as prepare for the changing business environment post-COVID-19. We will continue this work for both the DDA and the City of Traverse City in 2022.

Traverse Connect helped form the Northwest Michigan Industry 4.0 Consortium to support manufacturers in adopting smart automation and machine-to-machine communication practices. Meanwhile, our comprehensive Grand Traverse Regional Skill Gap Study identified the critical staffing needs in various industries and the immediate steps policymakers and education providers can take to address the gaps, especially in the skilled trades.

Our Michigan’s Creative Coast job board now has over 1,000 job views per month with considerable interest from talent hoping to relocate to our region from across the country. Work continues to improve the attractiveness of this area for all workers and foster a culture of inclusive opportunity with our DEIB program.

The competitiveness of our region was further improved with the initiation of an important partnership with Michigan Tech to bring their nationally recognized academic research to our region, setting the stage for commercialization of new technologies, targeted industry ventures, and further collaboration with Northwestern Michigan College.

We look forward to another challenging but productive year ahead, and we are excited to share highlights of local companies driving growth for the Northern Michigan economy. Their stories, detailed below, illustrate the impact our local firms have on the vitality of our region and why our support for these companies matters.

This work is only possible with the engagement of our members, investors, and partners. We deeply appreciate your continued support.

Access to quality child care has long been an obstacle to economic growth in northern Michigan. That’s why two years ago, Traverse Connect initiated discussions on a range of policy changes to make child care more accessible and affordable for families across northern Michigan.

In 2021, Traverse Connect and the Northern Michigan Chamber Alliance worked with Reps. O’Malley and Roth where they successfully navigated a bipartisan eight-bill package through the state House. We have since secured a commitment for a Senate hearing in February 2022.

The bill package includes measures to increase capacity at child care facilities, establish support networks for at-home providers, allow providers to operate in multi-use facilities, and give them a 90-day grace period to comply with new health and safety rules.

The legislation also eases reporting requirements and publicizes corrective improvements for at-home providers.

Traverse Connect played an integral role in this policy development by communicating with local child care providers to identify problems in the licensing system and then relaying these ideas to local legislators.

After facilitating discussions with providers, legislators, and state department officials, several policy changes became a reality and are now on the cusp of becoming law.

These policy changes are accompanied by Michigan’s historic investment in child care. Within the $1.5 billion to address child care needs are several Traverse Connect priorities, including:

- An estimated $108.1 million to increase the Child Development and Care’s entrance income eligibility from 150 percent to 185 percent of the federal poverty guidelines for the 2021-22 and 2022-23 fiscal years;
- An estimated $158 million to increase provider reimbursement rates by 30 percent for the 2021-22 and 2022-23 fiscal years;
- $700.7 million for MDE to distribute subgrants to eligible child care providers
- $100 million for technical or financial support to new or expanding child care providers
- $222 million for bonus pay to providers in addition to the ongoing 30 percent rate increases
- $36.5 million for MDE to contract with child care providers for infant and toddler slots.

In addition to these investments, the successful Tri-Share Pilot Program, which helps employers and employees share the cost of child care with the state, will receive more than double the funding than last year and expand from five to 10 counties in northwest Michigan.

Businesses in the Grand Traverse region have long cited accessible child care as a barrier to workforce attraction and retention. Traverse Connect acted on those concerns and delivered tangible results for employers and employees in northern Michigan.
INVESTOR SPOTLIGHT: IDEA STREAM MARSHA STRATTON, OWNER

No one could have guessed that business operations would have changed so much in the past year. As we saw these changes happening around us, we tried to offer solutions and better serve our clients' needs. Because let's face it - if you don't have staff and don't have products, marketing your business may not be on the top of your priority list.

We saw many trickle-down effects on local businesses from the pandemic. Whether it was supply chain issues or, in many cases, a lack of staff to perform the work needed, our focus shifted to how to help businesses with employee recruitment and retention and improving communication.

Recruiting: We helped clients create communication tools for hiring to reach their potential employees through radio, direct mail, email marketing, and more. Clients are encouraged to implement employee incentives to attract new staff, employee referral bonuses, and employee retention benefits. Trends in benefits include providing staff a monetary donation to a charity or organization in the area to foster and build excellent relationships with staff and their community.

Communication: Top-notch service is harder to offer due to supply chain issues and staffing. Now more than ever, the need for communication and appreciation of these relationships has come to the forefront. Social media can play an influential role in helping a business accomplish its goals, especially when scheduled months in advance. We determine the messaging and frequency, with predetermined topics that showcase the services and the staff that set a business apart from its competitors. Calendars should always have some fluidity for items that come up that are current and relevant.

Our team has received immense value in our partnership with Traverse Connect. Over the past year we have received three business referrals, expanded our SEO by using our Traverse Connect Business Directory. (We have seen over 1000 impressions and views in the last year!) My team and I appreciate the work that Traverse Connect delivers to our region. It is our pleasure to encourage businesses to join and get involved with this fantastic organization where you have access to resources to grow your business, and foster relationships.

Fresh Coast Concierge

“Relax. With Fresh Coast Concierge, it’s taken care of. Whether you will be enjoying a long weekend or an extended stay, Fresh Coast Concierge has you covered!”

Services include – Grocery and beverage procurement, floral arrangements, dining recommendations and reservations, wine tour set-up, and anything the guest will want to have set up before arrival. Our goal is to ensure that when the guests arrive, it’s time to start their vacation and make memories.

Volunteering

We are also volunteering with a new campaign in our area - Build Your Life. Build Your Life brings awareness and talent to the building and trades industries. We’re helping recruit candidates to explore the trades and show them the various educational paths and apprenticeships to provide a promising and rewarding career.
INVESTOR SPOTLIGHT:

PACE NORTH  MARY JOHN-WILLIAMS, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Mary John-Williams joined PACE North as Executive Director in July 2021. At the time, the program was approaching its 2-year anniversary in October, navigating a global pandemic, and just a month away from celebrating the enrollment of its 100th participant.

PACE North is one of 15 Program for All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE) programs in Michigan. PACE North offers a valuable alternative to Michigan’s older adults for long-term care. PACE North enables adults 55 and older who require a nursing-home level of care to receive comprehensive health care services while living independently at home. PACE North provides older adults and their families with physical, psychological, and social-emotional support that ensures they can remain safe and well-cared for at home, regardless of income level.

PACE North serves adults in Antrim, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Leelanau, Manistee, and Wexford counties. The program partners with caregivers, local providers, social workers, discharge planners, and senior service agencies to provide access to health care for those hoping to avoid facility placement. PACE North’s interdisciplinary team comprises primary care providers, clinical staff, social workers, a physical therapist, an occupational therapist, a recreational therapist, a dietitian, nurses, nursing assistants, and transportation. This team develops a care plan for each participant that addresses their individual needs. Participants are served in the Day Center as well as in their homes. The Day Center has a fully staffed medical clinic, therapy room, daily meals, life enrichment with peers, and pharmacy on site.

As the newly appointed Executive Director and being new to the area, Mary states, “I have received much support from the Traverse Connect team. They have provided me with connections in the community which included organizations that assist with employee benefits and insurance services. I experienced warm introductions to educational leaders and grant writers. Traverse Connect continues to be a valuable resource for me and the PACE North team by encouraging participation in their professional development and leadership programs.”

As Executive Director, Mary John-Williams is eager to expand the reach of PACE North to serve more seniors in the region. The need for a transformative model of care is evident based on the AARP’s Public Policy Institute report that 80 percent of adults have expressed a desire to remain in their homes and communities as they age and prefer a home setting over a nursing home or other institutional setting.

"Directing a highly skilled and caring team that brings compassionate care to those who count on us even in these life-changing times is a responsibility I take seriously," mentioned John-Williams. "Collaboration and community are two of PACE North’s core values, and working with others who share our vision in our seven-county region is what makes the PACE model of care unique, so we invite you to join us to enhance the lives of our Northern Michigan seniors."

For more information about PACE North, visit their website or find them on Facebook.
TALENT SPOTLIGHT: TENTCRAFT
ANDREW DODSON, PUBLIC RELATIONS MANAGER

In the fourth quarter of 2021, TentCraft leadership made hiring and employee retention a top company priority to not only fill manufacturing, marketing, and sales positions, but also ensure current employees were pleased with the company and their jobs. As a leading manufacturer and seller of custom-branded tents and structures for some of the world’s most recognizable brands, it’s critical for the company to have the right people to deliver on its promise of high-quality, American-made solutions delivered with incredible speed.

As part of that company priority, TentCraft participated in a Michigan’s Creative Coast job fair, partnered as a featured employer on the organization’s website, created direct links from our Careers Page to the Michigan’s Creative Coast website, enlisted employees into the Northern Navigator Program, and post all open positions on the Creative Coast website.

In addition to using Michigan Creative Coast to recruit new employees, TentCraft also executed several tasks to overcome hiring challenges, including...

- Surveying employees to develop a hybrid remote-work plan — and later executing on that plan.
- Restructuring benefits to include an extra week of paid leave for employees who are unable to work remotely; that makes for a minimum of 4 weeks of paid time off for all current and new employees.
- Partnering with the state’s new Tri-Share Program to reduce the cost of child care for qualified employees.
- Optimizing the company’s career page with SEO-friendly content that ranks high on Google.

The company successfully executed on its hiring priority, filling 11 positions to round out the year, in addition to developing a strong talent pipeline for new positions that have since been created.

“We’re constantly looking at the latest salary and benefit trends, in addition to company culture initiatives, to keep our employees engaged, motivated, and genuinely happy at their job,” said Rob Hanel, director of human resources at TentCraft.

Hanel added: “A big selling point for potential employees is the attraction of working, living, and playing in Traverse City, Michigan, so we greatly appreciate the work of the Michigan’s Creative Coast campaign as it highlights the quality of life we all enjoy here in Northern Michigan.”
MICHIGAN’S CREATIVE COAST

One of Traverse Connect’s top priorities is to develop and attract a talented workforce to the Grand Traverse Region. In 2021, we ramped up our talent attraction efforts by expanding the Michigan’s Creative Coast programming and resources. We highlight the Grand Traverse Region as an exceptional place to live, explore, and fulfill a career while advancing the economic vitality of the region by elevating its innovative and entrepreneurial ecosystem, attracting new people, new ideas, and new businesses to place our region on the map as an attractive career destination. Sector and industry agnostic, we love all types of businesses and job types. The ‘creative’ in Michigan’s Creative Coast is intended to inspire the innovative and entrepreneurial mindset, the families seeking a higher quality of life, and the digital nomads who can live anywhere.

Put simply, Michigan’s Creative Coast is a full-service relocation program, offering a one-stop resource for everything a newcomer needs to live, work, and get connected in the Grand Traverse Region.

Hosted the North Coast Homecoming career fair and social event on Thanksgiving Eve, in partnership with TCNewTech and 20Fathoms, targeting job-seekers of the Grand Traverse Region and professionals who had made the trip home for the holidays and who would consider relocating to Traverse City or Northern Michigan.

“This program is awesome. I’ve told several people, and they couldn’t believe you guys do this. I feel so much more confident about my move!”
Sarahbeth Ramsey, Digital Marketing Professional, relocated from Baltimore September 2021

“I think our biggest concern with moving to TC is not knowing anyone beforehand and being isolated in a new town. Meeting with [a Northern Navigator] alleviated a lot of that fear. It feels like we will be able to quickly get connected to other people in TC who are similar to us. I don’t know of any other city or town offering that type of experience, which is truly amazing!”
Chris Spagnuolo, considering a move to Traverse City, Summer 2022
