

Manufacturing Owner/Executive Roundtable

Facilitated Manufacturing Owner/Executive Roundtable:

This facilitator-led roundtable, which involves 8 to 12 manufacturing business owners/executives, provides a confidential forum where participants can share challenges, experiences, and thinking around problems unique to manufacturer owners/executives — and enhance their capabilities.

This is a confidential peer group environment that is not industry-specific and can offer a broader perspective, support, and insight. One of the things that make peer learning so appealing is the just-in-time, on-target feedback. The format enhances leadership abilities and improves decision-making.

Format: Monthly meetings to be set on an agreed-upon date and time by the participants of each roundtable.

Member Profile: Manufacturing Owner/Executive open to a unique development opportunity, willing to commit, engage, contribute, and grow.

Leadership Roundtables are built around their ability to build relationships, generate ideas, and share profound, inspiring, impactful, and actionable insights to take back with you. All components are focused on the growth of the business owner/executive and their business.

"I often feel that I don't have control of my time, which doesn't allow me to do what I want to do."

Your plan for your day pushed & crowded out by urgent tasks and distractions that spring up

Shifting from managing interruptions to strategically building and growing your company

Creating time & space to bring your ideas to life instead of them dying on the vine

"I know I should be delegating, but I can't seem to 'let go' of the important stuff"

Delegation misguidance: is it really just all about "trust" and "letting go"?

When delegation backfires - will you risk it again?

Critical aspects of delegation: time, level of authority, & team development

In this essential roundtable experience, you will discover...

- How to balance work and home life successfully
- Ways to view your business with a wider lens & growth mindset
- How your business can operate & thrive without you
- That building a more valuable company gives you more freedom
- How to reclaim your ability to live your purpose

"I go on vacation, but I can never truly get away and actually BE on vacation"

As a manufacturing owner/executive, can you actually be on vacation and truly get away from it all?

Packing everything into your vacation... work too

The disappointment and frustration surrounding a really good vacation

For manufacturing company owners and executives ready to transform their business so it becomes more enjoyable and profitable.

Making Your Business Rewarding, Fulfilling & Valuable

SESSION 10

I know deep down that I need to be working on my business strategically to build its value, but getting in that headspace is my biggest obstacle

SESSION 1

I often feel that I don't have control of my time, which doesn't allow me to do what I want to do

SESSION 2

I spend most of my day putting out fires when I should be spending my time growing the business

SESSION 9

I put a lot of blood, sweat and tears Into my company and I am struggling to feel the rewards

I go on vacation, but I can never truly get away and actually BE on vacation

SESSION 3

Everything in the business seems to revolve around me, and I've got too much on my plate

Sometimes a key customer pulls an order or a critical supplier misses a delivery commitment, putting my company in jeopardy

SESSION 5

more often think like I do, so they could take

I wish my team would the ball and run with it

Our customers must receive excellent customer service & a quality product, and I have to be directly involved to be sure they get it

Making Your Business Rewarding, Folfilling & Valuable

16 Indigho You Need to Leave To State Fram Owner To GDO Of Year Business

TODD SCHOKER Buringer Crewith Advisor Tim The Marc Country, Industry

SESSION 6

I know I should be important stuff

delegating, but I can't seem to 'let go' of the

TWO ARBORS CONSULTING

